NEW CONSTRUCTION & CONVERSIONS...
Eliminate Liability & Increase Your Sales!

Did you know that all condominium and town home developments must adhere to the Illinois Condominium Property Act? Are you aware that there are specific developer obligations per condo law that, if not done, could increase your liability and negatively impact your client's property value—and your commission upon resale?

Association Advocates Inc., consultants specializing in developer turnovers, will lead a panel consisting of: Charles T. VanderVennet, Principal in the law firm of Fosco, VanderVennet & Fullett, PC; Angela Falzone, Property Management Veteran; and, Beth Lloyd, REALTOR and President of ACTHA—Association of Condominium Townhouse & Homeowners Associations. All will offer a unique perspective on how to avoid Pre and Post Developer Turnover issues that negatively affect the developer, REALTOR and homeowners alike.

By understanding the developer's obligations, you will learn how to:
1) Decrease your legal liability; 2) Recognize problem developments; 3) Increase positive PR for your developer client and your credibility; 4) Educate your buyer client to protect and increase the future value of their property; and, 5) Offer added value before and after the sale.

Whether representing the developer or a buyer, this seminar is a must to help you protect yourself and best represent your client.
